I took Cy Sulzberger to lunch today at the Restaurant Calvet and we had a lot of, at least to me, agreeable talk. Cy has taken over Anne O'Hare McCormick's column in the New York Times, which he is admirably equipped to handle.

Woody Wallner came in to see me this afternoon. He is to replace Tony Satterthwaite as Political Adviser to General Cook's outfit. Cook is [redacted] fortunate to have him. He is one of the most competent men, in my opinion, in the Foreign Service.

E. went out for the first time tonight and we dined with the Ismays. The Sergents, (from NATO), Hervé Alphand, the Bob Barnes, and Eve Curie, in whose honor the dinner was given, were there. Eve is terminating her duties at NATO today and leaving tomorrow for the United States. Hervé told me he had yesterday accepted designation as French Ambassador to Tokyo, which I was [redacted] glad to hear.
